TUESDAY MORNING, : : : IAN. 25, 1870.

The APPEAL, in its last Sunday's issue, makes certain remarks in regard to our short notice of the late election. It ap-pears that the oath matter has wormed itself around in his head. We never main-tained that Johnson, the lately chosen Mayor, was not a citizen of the United States, but that he asked for English prosupport his declaration with an oath? The Arreat answers as follows:

The use of war oaths, we confess, has cal party.

not been remarkably advantageous, or profitable to the Government or people. Their effect has been demoralizing, and the Government has never been protected by them to a cent's worth. But Mr. Johnson did not swear falsely. His outh was, that he had not forsworn his allegiance to Great Britain-nothing more."

and untruth is untruth, none the less, even with the aid of the Jesuitic "proba-bleism" of this interpretation. The advice given to the Germans not to allow themselves to be misled by their organ, we have ourselves always taken to heart, and especially contributed with our energy to bring about-that they our energy to bring about-that they should out themselves loose from party
